Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 03 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Central and southern areas mainly dry, showers in the north.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers across the north gradually dying out overnight and becoming confined to the far northeast. Elsewhere becoming dry and cold with some frost, this mainly in the south.

Thursday:
Much of Scotland will have a dry, cold and bright day. Cloud and some light rain will spread into the northwest later in the day.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
East and south mainly dry on Friday, some rain in then northwest, becoming milder. Very breezy with rain spreading southeast on Saturday, then increasingly dry on Sunday with winds easing.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.